A large group of the brainiest men of New Jersey, headed by Thomas A. Edison, summed up their reasons for supporting the suffrage amendment in the following words: "The laws of evolution work with irresistible momentum and power, but not in haste. We do believe, however, that woman suffrage is the next great forward reach in the eternal onward march of the human race, and that as time goes on, the granting of the ballot to women will be justified in the gradual appearance of a higher standard of citizenship, and a broader and nobler national life."

EXPORTING IS TO BE STOPPED BY HUNGARY

Even to Austria as a Result of the Serious Food Situation in That Country.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS)
ZURICH, Switzerland, Dec. 29.—All efforts to prevent the extortionate prices of foodstuffs in Hungary have so far failed, the government has now determined. In addition to the export, even to Austria, of any articles of food which are scarce, and has also fixed maximum prices that are to be imposed throughout Hungary, according to reliable advices received here. Local authorities are to be empowered to seize with military force any stocks of grain and other provisions that are being kept back for higher prices.

Although Hungary is essentially an agricultural country, the prices of flour and dairy products, as well as meat, are much higher than in industrial Germany. The land-owners and farmers, who control Parliament in Budapest, have used their utmost influence to prevent the importation of cheap foods from abroad, prior to the war, by insisting upon the maintenance of the high protective

STOCKHOLDER'S MEETING.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Wallace Bank for the election of Directors for the ensuing year, or any other business that may properly come before the meeting, will be held in its banking house at Wallace, W. Va., on Tuesday, January 11th, 1916, at 1:30 P. M.

Undeterred by fines and even imprisonment, Hungarian producers and dealers have been charging exorbitant prices, until the patience of the government, press and public alike have become exhausted. Under the new arrangement, every possible effort will be made to bring in livestock, meat and fodder from abroad, while the export of these, together with eggs and dairy products, will be stopped. Nothing will be left un-done to increase the producing capacity of the country. Manufactories such as distilleries, breweries and oil refineries, whose by-products yield cattle foods, must now be run so as to produce the utmost quantity of products.
